CMAA Might Participate In International Group

CMAA President David H. Ripper attended the Recreation Managers Association Conference recently at Loughborough, England, and was among the representatives of six countries who discussed ways of establishing international lines of communication and cooperation between groups of recreation-oriented professionals.

In addition to Mr. Ripper, men from England, West Germany, Sweden, Norway and Finland participated in the informal discussions.

It was decided that an information bureau called "Interclub International" be established and operated out of the London office of Wilf Best, executive director of the Recreation Managers Association.

Mr. Ripper, Detroit Club, said the question of CMAA's participation in the information bureau would be decided at the board meeting in late November.

Leaves CMAA Position

Donna L. Hidalgo has resigned as manager of the member service department in the CMAA national office at Washington, D.C. She has accepted a position with the Helicopter Association of America, also in Washington.

Mrs. Hidalgo had been employed by CMAA more than three years. "I have tremendously enjoyed the opportunity of working with CMAA members," she said.

Clubs Produce Two of Five Olympic Chefs

Private club chefs have been chosen for two of the top five spots on the U.S. team in the 1972 International Culinary Olympics—and two for five isn't a bad average in anyone's league. Team members selected recently at Detroit are shown with representatives of Kraft Foods, team sponsor (from left): Dean Nelson, vice-president of Kraft's Institutional Division; Bernard Urban, Royal Coach, Houston, team captain; Franz Ecker, Henry's at Lander Haven, Cleveland; Gerhard Grimeissen, Del Paso C.C., Sacramento, Calif.; Frank Berger, Stadium Club, St. Louis; Tom Hough, advertising and sales promotion manager of Kraft Institutional; and Jack Sullivan, Disneyland Hotel, Anaheim, Calif., team manager. The International Culinary Olympics will be in Frankfurt, Germany, in October, 1972.
